How to find us

Directions from Munich City Center (approx. 20-30 min)

Take motorway A9 direction Nürnberg and exit “Garching Nord” and leave exit turning right (direction Garching). At traffic light turn left onto B11 (= Freisinger Landstrasse), direction Munich Airport / Freising. Pass next traffic light and you will find visitors parking lot / main entrance to GEGR on the righthand side.

Via B471

Go through the city of Garching, continue going straight after leaving city, direction Munich Airport / Freising on B11 (= Freisinger Landstrasse). Pass two traffic lights and you will find visitors parking lot / main entrance to GEGR on the righthand side.

Directions from Munich Airport (approx. 20 min)

Take motorway A92 direction Stuttgart, change to A9 heading Munich and exit A9 at “Garching Nord” and leave exit turning left (direction Garching). At traffic light turn left onto B11 (= Freisinger Landstrasse), direction Munich Airport / Freising. Pass next traffic light and you will find visitors parking lot / main entrance to GEGR on the righthand side.

Via B11 – from North

Go through the town of Dietersheim, continue going straight after leaving town, direction Munich / Garching on B11 (= Freisinger Landstrasse). First building on left hand side will be GEGR.

Public transport - From Munich Main Station to GE

It will take approx. 45 minutes (for exact time table please use: www.mvv-muenchen.de).

At main station take any S-Bahn-Train to “Marienplatz” (2 stops). Exit S-Bahn and change to U-Bahn U6 (underground) direction “Garching Forschungszentrum”.

When you get off the train follow the signs “General Electric”, then walk about 5-10 min straight direction main road B11. About 100m before you reach the main road you will see a GE Global Research sign on the right side. Turn right and cross the parking lot. Our silver/dark red building is at the end of the parking lot, the reception faces the main road.

More Information about Public Transport

The best way of getting around in Munich is to use the public transport system MVV. There are buses, trams, the S-Bahn and the U-Bahn. There is also the Deutsche Bahn if you want to travel within Germany.

S-Bahn (Fast train)

U-Bahn (Underground)

Deutsch Bahn (Train)

Additionally, Munich has some Trams (see picture on the right)

Most of these trains run from early in the morning to about 1 or 2 a.m. Additionally, there are night buses and night trams (Nachtlinien) that run at intervals of about 30 minutes all night on Fridays and Saturdays.

Buying 'MVV' Tickets

Buying the right ticket for your trip can be quite a challenge. Being caught without a ticket however, will cost you a fine of 30 Euro so try and figure out which ticket you need before starting your trip.

You can buy your ticket from the blue machines marked with a yellow "K", from a kiosk or from a tram or bus-driver. Most people always use the machines. Validate the ticket by stamping it ("stempeln"), i.e., inserting it in the blue "Entwerter" box marked with an "E" in stations, trams or buses.

The MVV area is divided into several zones, one in the center (Innenraum) and three in the outskirts (Außenraum). You will have to pay more if you want to travel further away from the city centre. Mostly, though you'll get by with an Innenraum ticket.

If you want to use the public transport all day, the easiest way is to buy a day pass (Tageskarte). The day ticket for singles, groups and children is ideal for as many trips as you like on one day.

Various types of day tickets are available:

- Single day ticket
- Gruppen-Tageskarte (for 5 adults/day)
- Children's day ticket
- Day ticket 3 days inner district

Single day ticket

The single day ticket is for an adult from the age of 15 onwards. It can be used within the selected district of validity for as many trips as one likes on one day. Every day ticket has to be validated and is valid until 6 am the following day.

You can choose between four different areas of validity:

- Inner district/Innenraum (white zone)
- Munich XXL/München XXL (white and green zone)
- Outer district/Außenraum (green, yellow and red zone)
- All zones/Gesamtnetz (entire network)

Partner day ticket

The partner day ticket is valid for up to five adults, whereby any two children between 6 and 14 years of age count as one adult. It is therefore ideal for families, groups and school trips (schoolchildren up to 9th grade are counted as children).

- Inner district/Innenraum (white zone)
- Munich XXL/München XXL (white and green zone)
- Outer district/Außenraum (green, yellow and red zone)
- All zones/Gesamtnetz (entire network)

Other tickets

Another possibility is to buy a Streifenkarte (strip ticket). For each zone you travel through, you have to stamp two strips. If you travel only one stop, (Kurzstrecke) stamp one strip, for most journeys in the Innenraum (center zone) you'll be looking at two strips. Furthermore, you can buy a single ticket (Einzelfahrkarte) for individual trips.

Look at a Map of the underground system.

Shopping in Munich

Shopaholics are in for a treat in Munich. The city's shops combine international names and designer goods with traditional Bavarian crafts.

The main shopping areas are Neuhauserstrasse and Kaufingerstrasse, both lined with large department stores and international chains. Smaller, more exclusive boutiques can be found around Maximilianstrasse and Theatinerstrasse.

Typical gifts might include examples of traditional clothing (Trachten), such as Lederhosen for men and Dirndl for women; beer mugs (Stein); wood carvings (Holzschnitzereien); pewter-ware (Zinn); the famous Nymphenburg porcelain and speciality foods such as Lebkuchen, Christmas Stollen, and marzipan.

A shopping-paradise par excellence begins just behind the University and lovers of literature in particular will feel at home in the antiquarian shops round Schellingstrasse.

Opening Times - larger shops, department stores and supermarkets:

Monday - Friday: 09.00 - 20.00

Saturday: 09.00 - 18.00

Opening Times - small shops

Monday - Friday: 09.00 - 18.00 and may close for lunch

Saturday: 09.00 - 16.00

Mehrwertsteuer (VAT) of 19% is included in the price of purchased items, visitors from non-EU countries are entitled to a tax refund. Participating stores display a Europe Tax-Free logo.

Top Sightseeing Attractions in Munich

Munich is known in Germany as the city with the village feel. It has all the sophistication of a big-city but is on a smaller and much friendlier scale. It is a delight to walk around and whilst is relatively small it has enough to keep explorers busy for weeks. (You could spend a week in the Deutsches Museum alone.)

It's a very green city. It's quiet and spacious and has wide boulevards, large squares and well-kept parks. It isn't a city that'll tire you out as much as others, and whilst Munich is a city on a smaller scale, it does for example have a superb modern transport system.

Marienplatz

Named after the column of the Virgin Mary at its center the Marienplatz is one of the most famous part of Munich. It is a centerpiece for the city's Founding Festival as well as for Fasching celebrations and the popular Christmas market. The square is famed for its neo-Gothic Town Hall, whose mechanical clock, or Glockenspiel, plays every day at 11.00, 12.00 and 17.00.

The picture shows The Marienplatz with the statue of the Virgin Mary, the Rathaus (town hall) on the right and the Frauenkirche in the background.

Frauenkirche

This is the Metropolitan Church of the Archbishop of Munich-Freising and is a landmark for the city of Munich. It has a late Gothic nave from the 15th century, interior with works of art spanning 5 centuries.

The cathedral is a 'must visit' and you'll have no problem finding it as it dominates the skyline.

Address: Frauenplatz 1, München

Deutsches Museum

The largest museum of technology and natural sciences in the world, with over 13 acres of exhibitions containing invaluable original machines and equipment, models and reconstructions, from classical mechanics to telecommunications, from a full-size reconstructed coal mine to space travel technology.

If you like anything technical in any way, this is the place to head for. You could spend a week in there easily.

BMW Museum

This museum, with its distinctive architecture in the shape of a futuristic silver bowl, is among the most attractive museums in Munich. The "time horizons" exhibition takes you on an exciting journey through technical feats of pioneering - from the historic BMW sports car through legendary prototypes, right up to futuristic study of automobiles and motorcycles. The path also takes the visitor past topical subjects like alternative propulsion methods, recycling and cooperative traffic management. The neighbouring BMW World opened for the public in 2007

Olympic Tower and Olympic Park

Site of the 1972 Olympics, this landscaped park contains sport facilities, lakes, bicycle paths, concert venues, restaurants and a football stadium, as well as its landmark "tent-style" roofs.

The Olympic tower was built for the Olympic games in 1973, along with the rest of the Olympic Park. At 951 feet high, it is Germany's highest television tower. It has a revolving restaurant at the top, and offers spectacular views.

Englischer Garten

The park in the heart of Munich

The English Garden, Munich's famous 900-acre park, has shaded paths, brooks, ponds and swans and is best known for its four beer gardens (Chinesischer Turm, Seehaus, Hirschau, Aumeister) and nude sunbathers. The English Garden stretches from the center of the city (near Odeonsplatz) to the northern city border. Access: The best way to reach it is the bus No. 54 from "Muenchner Freiheit" underground station (exit at stop "Chinesischer Turm")

Address: U-Bahn 3 or 6. Stations: Universität (Monopterus and Chinese Tower), Münchener Freiheit (Seehaus).

Schloss Nymphenburg – Nymphenburg Palace

The baroque palace in the west part of Munich was the summer residence of the Bavarian monarchs. Five generations of Wittelsbach rulers were involved in the construction of this stately ensemble, which houses several outstanding collections.

With its lavishly decorated interior and the famous "Gallery of Beauties" commissioned by Ludwig I, the palace is one of Munich's favorite attractions. Among the highlights are the former bedroom of King Ludwig II and the impressive banquet hall with fine ceiling frescoes by Johann Baptist Zimmermann.

Neuschwanstein Castle (approx. 1 h drive)

Neuschwanstein was built from 1868 by King Ludwig II of Bavaria and is probably the best known castle in the world. It is a mixture of styles and the initial blueprint was penned by a theatre designer rather than an architect.

The castle was built 2000m above the valley floor and its centerpiece became the lavish Sängersaal (Minstrel's Hall) where Ludwig could indulge in his obsession with Wagner and medieval knights.

Rather madly, for all the money spent on it, when it was finished in 1886 the first sky scrapers in America were being built.
